

Preparing for Winter on Horse Properties

Join Tualatin Soil and Water Conservation District and Alayne Blickle of Horses for Clean Water for a FREE WORKSHOP about managing mud, manure, and pastures - along with horse health!

When: Saturday, October 20th, 2018 9:00am - 3:00pm

Where: Tualatin Soil and Water Conservation District
7175 NE Evergreen Parkway #400, Hillsboro, OR 97124

Lunch provided!

WORKSHOP TOPICS INCLUDE:

- Mud, manure, and drainage management
Find out about useful ways to deal with mud and runoff on your property, including paddock footing options, geotextile fabrics, on-farm set-ups for roof runoff, creative ways to keep rain out of stalls and barns, and more!
- Winter horse pasture management
Fall is the right time to get pastures ready for the upcoming wet, cold and dark months. Learn about sacrifice areas, rotational grazing, soil testing and liming.
- Winter health care for horses
Dr. Alexander of Alexander Equine Veterinary Services will discuss winter health care for horses, including vaccinations, respiratory diseases, and more.

Tualatin Soil and Water
CONSERVATION DISTRICT

Conservation is for everyone.

Registration required. Sign up at www.tualatinswcd.org.

Questions? Contact Charlotte at 503-277-3709